

Draft arranged overdraft agreement

(for accounts opened on or after 12th September 2011)

Your arranged overdraft is an unsecured short-term borrowing facility on your current account. You may wish to consider whether other types of credit may be more suitable for you. Cheaper forms of credit may be available for longer term borrowing. For example, you may wish to consider a loan if you would like to repay set amounts over a set period of time.

We will decide your arranged overdraft limit and tell you what it is in the pre-contract credit information about your arranged overdraft. We may change the limit at any time and we'll let you know about any change.

We will not charge interest on arranged overdrafts up to a certain amount. This amount is different depending on the type of account you have, as set out in the table below.

Classic	£0
Silver	£50
Gold	£50
Platinum	£50
Premier	£250

If you have a Student Account, in your first year of study you can apply for an interest free arranged overdraft of up to £500 in the first six months from account opening, up to £1000 in months 7 to 9 from account opening, up to £1500 from month 10 from account opening until the end of your third year of study and up to £2000 in years 4 to 6 of study.

If you have a Graduate Account you can apply for an interest free arranged overdraft of up to £2000 in your first year after graduation, up to £1500 in your second year after graduation and up to £1000 in your third year after graduation.

If you have an arranged overdraft balance over the interest free amount, we will charge you daily arranged overdraft interest.

You will pay the daily arranged overdraft interest rate on any amount you go overdrawn over the interest free amount.

The rate that will apply to you will be provided to you in your Pre-Contract Credit Information.

The interest rate for your arranged overdraft is based on how you manage any accounts you have with us and on the credit information we hold about you. If you are on a special rate you'll have been told about this separately. There are no other charges to pay for using your arranged overdraft.

Going above your arranged overdraft limit

If you try to make a payment but do not have enough money available in your account or enough available arranged overdraft to cover it, then we may refuse the payment due to lack of funds or let you have an unarranged overdraft. We won't charge you interest on amounts over your arranged overdraft limit.

All overdrafts are repayable on demand. The arranged overdraft has no fixed end date but we will review it regularly. We can end or vary this arranged overdraft (including the daily arranged overdraft interest rate) at any time as set out in the Bank Account Conditions. You can cancel your arranged overdraft at any time by writing to us, visiting one of our branches or phoning us. If you do so, you must pay back any money you owe us. This information is valid on the day it is produced only.

Your final agreement will contain a Total Charge for Credit (TCC) that assumes you borrow the full amount of your arranged overdraft for 3 months, make no repayments during that period and the daily arranged overdraft interest rate does not change. This also assumes you are charged any monthly maintaining the account fee(s), if your account has them, at the end of each month.

Overdrafts are provided by Bank of Scotland plc, The Mound, Edinburgh EH1 1YZ.
